

Happy Valentine's Day from Tabby's Place: Hub of Love & Compassion

Everykitty at Tabby's Place is excited when Valentine's Day comes around...but no more excited than on any other day of the year. That's because, at the sanctuary, every day is a day for love, play, and care. You can help give cats rescued from hopeless situations a "Valentine's life" by joining our new 365 Days of Love program.

By giving at one of three levels, you enable us to provide a cat with the Tabby's Place gold standard of (I) emergency medical care, (II) an unsurpassed environment or (III) in-house medical treatment. For less than the price of a daily cup of Starbucks®, you can make a loving difference to a cat in need. Visit our brand new 365 Days of Love web page, or contact Angela to find out more about putting your love and compassion in action every day of the year.

The Tabby's Place Love Connection

Nothing fills us with glee quite like a match made in heaven between a person and a cat.

The following are just a sampling of recent love stories at the sanctuary.

BAILEY...is now one appreciated little guy! Rescued from an abusive home, Bailey arrived at TP frightened and ringworm-positive. This meant weeks of scary-to-a-kitten sulfur dips, plus a world of new people he wasn't sure he could trust. But things soon started looking sweeter: after being declared ringworm-free, Bailey met & beguiled his new "Mom" with his gentle ways. He was once in a hopeless situation, but Bailey is now cherished just the way he is.

SPRING...has been sprung from once-dire conditions. First she was found to have been born with only one kidney—a strange circumstance that would make it more difficult to find a home. Next, her first adopter returned Spring to Tabby's Place. But then, along came Adam. From his first days as a volunteer at TP, Adam had his heart set on Spring...but she'd have to wait until he moved to a pet-friendly apartment. However, things happen the way they're meant to, and Spring was still available when Adam was ready. Today, Spring and Adam share their new, love-filled home.

SAMARA...shares her new home with two other TP alumni, and her life is overflowing with love. It's a happy ending for a kitten who barely survived babyhood. Samara first arrived at TP as a malnourished 6-week-old, and, against grim predictions, lived to be adopted. However, her saga was far from over. A few months after her adoption, Samara was returned for having "too much energy." But just days after her return to TP, a young couple met Samara and knew she was 'the one' to join their family. This time around, Samara has a real forever home. Our little sweetheart's energy and affection are already bringing great joy to her family.
